The 2025 Southern Regional Conference in Lifelong Learning invites session proposals that highlight innovative strategies, emerging trends, and proven practices in lifelong learning. If you are passionate about enhancing adult education and fostering meaningful engagement, we encourage you to share your expertise by leading a session at this year's conference. To ensure robust discussions and deeper interaction, each session will be 75 minutes, providing ample time for questions and participant engagement. Suggested proposal areas:

- Conference Theme:
- "Stronger Together: Sharing What Works in Lifelong Learning"
Collaborate. Innovate. Elevate.
- This year's conference will be hosted by OLLI at Emory University at the Embassy Suites by Hilton Atlanta Galleria. OLLI at Emory is excited to share our program and best practices with you. We also want to learn from everyone—because the strength of lifelong learning comes from the collective wisdom of our community.
- We are currently seeking proposals for presentations, workshops, and panel discussions that align with our theme. If you have an innovative program, a successful strategy, or valuable insights that could benefit fellow lifelong learning professionals, we encourage you to submit a proposal.
- Possible topics include (but are not limited to):
 - ✓ Expanding program outreach and engagement
 - ✓ Innovative teaching and learning methods
 - ✓ Technology in lifelong learning (HyFlex, online platforms, etc.)
 - ✓ Volunteer and instructor recruitment strategies
 - ✓ Marketing and fundraising for lifelong learning programs
 - ✓ Diversity, equity, and inclusion in lifelong learning
 - ✓ Curriculum building and course development
 - ✓ Reshaping your program when needed: Adapting to change and growth

Submit your proposal and join us in shaping the future of lifelong learning! Deadline: Friday, February 28, 2025
